

ARLINGTON
WATER SUPPLY
UP TO VOTERS*Failure of Present Wells and Lowering Supply Forces Decision

Believe It or Not—the people of Arlington Heights will have to make a definite decision very soon and settle the water matter in some way, or the village will be face to face with a water shortage next summer that will be more acute than was experienced at any time during the warm weather months of 1930. This warning is not alone being sounded by village officials whose job it is to keep the affairs of the village running properly. Quoting from one of the men connected with the installation of the new sewer system, "there is going to be a whole lot of water running thru that sewer system, which last year was running thru the water mains."

The why and whereof was covered in a hundred page report that was presented to the village board last year. This paper has the public time to read the technical reasons for such a situation. This village faces a crisis next summer. If that crisis is to be averted, prompt action is necessary right now.

The village of Arlington Heights spent several years talking about an adequate sewer system. If it spends the same length of time talking about an adequate water supply, there are a lot of people who will go thirsty and bathing will be a luxury in this village the coming summer and a few more summers after that.

A representative of the Herald has studied the situation and is fully convinced that the days of shallow wells in this part of the country are ended. The villages of Des Plaines, Arlington Heights and Palatine have spent a lot of money in drilling a lot of shallow wells, not one of which has met the expectations of the engineers, and well men. Arlington Heights well No. 6, drilled at Searsdale and put in operation last summer, is out of commission as this paper goes to press. There is not a well in Arlington Heights that is pumping over 75 gallons a minute. There are five pumps over five wells, three men are paid salaries to keep them running and coax out of those wells every last bit of water that they will give. From a commercial standpoint, it is poor business. There is not a big corporation in the United States faced with a similar condition, which would not have junked at least three of those pumps and cut down on the labor overhead.

Believe it or not, this is a serious condition.

The voters will go to the polls March 4 to express their opinion in reference to a $50,000 bond issue to drill a real deep well and equip it with a pump. They should vote intelligently and the Herald in a series of three articles published the next three weeks will endeavor to present pertinent facts about the situation.

There are three sources by which an adequate water supply can be obtained for Arlington Heights.

Lake Michigan water, which a company plan to provide thru a filtering system to the larger towns which have the price to pay for it, is 17c a thousand gallons for every gallon of water delivered.

The success of Des Plaines in obtaining an adequate supply of water from a deep well puts this probability in the dim future.

Chicago supply, which would entail an expenditure of half a million dollars for water mains.

A real deep well sunk to Pottsdam sandstone as is provided in the proposed bond issue.

Arlington Heights citizens are only using about sixty per cent as much water per capita as residents of other towns.

The present water supply is only sewage from around this village and that a great quantity of the available sewage is now passing thru the new sewer mains.

Arlington Heights is paying in overhead costs today an amount equal to the interest on a $50,000 bond issue and the operating expense of the old bond issue would supply that old bond issue would provide. In other words Arlington Heights is paying for an adequate water supply, but is not getting it.

Next week—"Our water supply—where it comes from."

If You Would Escape
Flu, Go To Bed Early

With an increasing number of local people with attacks of the flu and kindred ailments, a local physician requests of the Herald publishing a simple prescription upon how to escape similar attacks. In the first place, go to bed early, get plenty of sleep. Fresh air, no matter how cold it may be, is good insurance for good health. A stuffy room with foul air is joy to flu microbes. Wholesome food, which does not mean candy and rich foodstuffs. Good elimination is of course, of equal importance.

These and similar rules of health will help to keep the doctor away. Not that we do not enjoy him, personally, but in spite of the extra time on our hands these days, we are too busy to take time being ill.

Come to P. T. A.
Sociable Next
Thursday Night

A social and get-acquainted meeting will be held next Thursday evening, Feb. 12 (Lincoln's birthday), at the South side school. Every parent, men as much as women, whose child or children attend the public schools in Arlington Heights, are earnestly invited to come for an evening of enjoyment and sociability, with the new Parent-Teachers' association.

A number of games that are first rate for getting people acquainted, will be played as arranged by the program committee. Miss Dorrington of the South side school will give some of her entertaining readings, and Homer Evans will sing. Refreshments will be served.

This will be the first meeting of the P. T. A., that has not been devoted mainly to business; and the committee have felt that a principal need at this stage is to have parents get acquainted with each other in a hearty good time, and with the teachers; while the organization is gaining in strength and the new officers and committees become familiar with their many new duties.

All the lady teachers in the North and South schools have joined; and a 100 per cent membership of the men is expected.

It is distinctly understood that this is a parents' and not merely a mothers' organization; and many of the fathers have already joined and are taking active part.

Hi-way Frontage Active Nowadays

The Bert H. Laudermilk Realty association report that recent real estate buyers are showing a great deal of interest in Northwest Highway business frontage.

January business contained, in addition to an increased volume of residential property, over $12,000 in closed sales for Highway corners. C. E. Ellison of the Laudermilk organization sold the corner of the State boulevard and the Northwest Highway for $18,000.00; L. W. Carpenter, the corner of Race avenue and the Highway for $14,500.00; and M. A. Heyden, the corner of Chatham place and the Highway for $10,290.00.

ARLINGTON HTS.
VILLAGE BOARD
HOLDS MEETING

The Village Board of Arlington Heights met Monday night, Feb. 1, in regular session; Trustees H. J. Byrd being absent. After minutes were disposed of, the Finance committee report on bills and payroll was read and accepted; years 5, The Judiciary, Building, Sewer and Water committees had no reports.

The Police committee reported the repairing of a street light cable at the Gaaga garage. The street committee reported a request for a fill at the gas station at Pine street and the Highway; also that an electric light pole had been put in place near the Wayman shop.

The treasurer's report of a balance on hand of $800.43, was referred to the finance committee; years 5. The report on special assessments for the last four months, October to Feb. 1, was accepted and also referred to the Finance committee.

A permit for an 18-inch piece of sewer, to run 70 feet on the C. & N. W. right of way at Dryden place, was negotiated between the board and the railway company; on motion of Trustees Jasper and Muller.

The question of dedication of 10 feet south of the railroad to the new treatment plant as a continuation of Davis street, then came up for consideration. A plat was presented and on motion was approved; years 5. The land was formerly owned by W. F. Kirchhoff, George Kirchhoff, and Paul Taeger.

Mr. Steve Csanadi, proprietor of a beauty parlor on West Campbell street, on motion was given a permit for a deep well to make up his mind what he proposed to do in regard to his shop being in residence territory.

LOCAL FIRM ADDS OIL TO FUEL LINE

Arlington Elevator & Coal Co. are taking the initiative in Arlington Heights in completing their fuel service by adding fuel oil. The necessary equipment is now being installed and Mr. Schneberger states that he expects to start deliveries some time next week.

Two 15,000 gallon steel tanks will be installed and a brick pump house is now under construction. The tanks and their contents will be protected from fire hazards by earthen dikes, thereby meeting the most stringent requirements of the state fire marshal's office and the yard will be protected by an attractive wire fence and tie dikes will be added.

All oil will be pumped into the storage and later into the delivery tanks. The deliveries to the customer will be by the same method, which Mr. Schneberger states is the one that is strongly recommended by the state fire marshal, who was consulted about the entire installation.

Two grades of oil, of 2-28 gravity and 36-38 gravity, will be carried. Deliveries will be by a Chevrolet truck with a Frell body.

UNIVERSITY
TRUCK GROWER
SCHOOL HELD*Fertilizer from Straw;
How Farmers Redeem
Fallen Incomes

The Truck Growers' school, conducted by the University of Illinois department of Horticulture. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at LaGrange has been passing off in due form with a good attendance, approximately one hundred at each meeting so far, as this is written.

A very interesting talk on recent developments in use of electricity on farms was by Richard Boonstra of the Public Service Company. "It is too many times true that men connected with a commercial institution when they are put on an educational program of this kind, they overshadow the educational with their advertising," said Farm Advisor Barrett, afterward. "But we certainly feel that in the case of Mr. Boonstra he gave a very fair statement of things bearing on electricity on the farm and its various newer phases; particularly electrical heat for greenhouses." Mr. Boonstra, further referred this matter to Mr. Somers of the University, who has done some investigational work along this line.

Considerable discussion was provoked on the new process of making straw quickly into manure. This was explained by Dr. J. V. Lloyd of the University; he informed those present that it is possible to so treat the straw at threshing time that by November or December it is ready for application to the field; and is quite superior to the common barnyard manure, or truck feeders are commonly able to secure.

Mr. E. P. Lewis of the experiment station at DePlains told of interesting and valuable results that have been obtained in the past four years here.

Mr. O. G. Barrett, Cook County Farm advisor, Tuesday used figures and illustrations to project the thought of those present into the future; saying that the successful man that is able to look ahead and anticipate the trend of things in such a manner that he can adjust himself, by so doing often finds himself several jumps ahead of the crowd.

Wednesday his talk dealing with the new Gardeners' Supply, Inc., in relation to the Farm Bureau, he showed that farmers, who make up 1-6 of the population today, receive about 1-15 of the national income. That approximately 6,000,000 farmers in 1930 received slightly more than 6 billion for their products, or about $1000 apiece, gross!

That in 1909 farmers were getting 50 cents of the consumers' dollar and were prosperous; in 1917 they were getting 67 cents of the consumers' dollar and were more prosperous; while in the last 10 years that percentage has dropped until the farmers are now getting but 37 cents of the consumers' dollar.

He then offered three possible solutions whereby the farmers may receive more:

1. By increasing the amount the consumer pays, passing the increase on to the farmer; this he discouraged.

2. That they might by organization, legislation or by the employment of Al. Capone eliminate some of the "inbetweens" or middlemen or else make the present number of "inbetweens" take a less proportion. This plan seems rather feasible, but difficult to carry out.

3. The third plan which seems more adaptable: If the inbetweens are taking more than their share, then why can't the farmers, who have the time and ability, extend out from the production side and become "inbetweens" as well? This is what they are now doing more and more in various co-operatives; distributing to themselves those things of which they buy the most at immense savings in the aggregate; and if profits accrue, distribute these profits also among themselves in proportion to the amount of business they have done with their cooperative. This Gardeners' Supply, Inc., is a new service to the truck gardeners added to those by which the farmers of Cook county connected with the Farm Bureau saved $104,000 last year.

Mr. C. C. Compton, entomologist of the Natural History Survey, was unable to attend Wednesday, but was to speak Thursday instead.

Arlington Scouts to Celebrate 21st
Anniversary Week

Troops Five and Seven of Arlington Heights Boy Scouts will celebrate next Sunday morning the beginning of the 21st anniversary celebration of the founding of the movement by attending in a body the Presbyterian church. Rev. H. A. Kossack will deliver an appropriate sermon. All scouts and scouters are urged to attend.

Special Court of Honor Program

Monday evening a public court of honor will be held at the High school, where Scout advancement will be recognized, and other entertainment provided. Parents, scouts, scouters and friends are invited to be guests of the troops for that evening.

The ideal who not only cuts from a side street into a lot of traffic, but also swings way over to the left in so doing.

See Cook Co. Tax Assessment
System Like "One Hoss Shay"*Another Breakdown This Year Will Compel Modernization; Citizen's Committee Says It's Now up to Officials

"And the old gray mare ain't like she used to be." A breakdown in essential government services in Cook county through a holding up of 1929 taxes and the refusal of banks to loan the major governmental bodies in Cook county any more money on anticipation warrants, is forecast by the Strawn Citizens' committee which last year were instrumental in raising funds to keep the County, Chicago and Chicago school board from going to the wall.

The only way out that they can see, is a modernizing and complete change in the assessment machinery, whereby there will be some non-political head to the system, a responsible concentrated authority with power to secure action and bring in the tax money on time.

In a formal statement the committee declared:

"The committee finds that the credit troubles of a year ago and of the present time have a common source in the conflicts, uncertainties, and general unworkableness of the assessing machinery in Cook county. It is the opinion of the committee that these characteristics are inherent in the extremely decentralized assessment organization established by the revenue act of 1898.

"Because of these conditions, the state is deprived of approximately $20,000,000 of revenue long past due from the collector of this county. The credit of the state is actually threatened. Furthermore, the local governments in this city face a revenue famine, and serious breakdown is in prospect in the very near future.

"Obviously, governments cannot function without revenue. This revenue comes from taxes and is not available unless the taxes are assessed and collected in accordance with the law. The indications are that the assessment of taxes for the year 1929 will not be completed within the time prescribed by law and that the assessments for the years 1930 and 1931 will be long delayed.

Quick Action Urged

"To avert public disaster, to keep the schools open and the police, firemen and other necessary officials on the job, to restore and maintain the credit of the community and save it the disgrace and humiliation of bankruptcy, the committee finds that the existing assessing system should be abolished forthwith.

"The committee, after careful study and consideration, believes that there should be created a board of assessment and revision, consisting of three members, one member thereof to be the county assessor.

"The committee suggests that the legislature immediately pass an emergency measure a bill or bills bringing about such reform.

Up to Present Officials

"Meanwhile it must be remembered that the citizens' committee is not chargeable with the responsibility of providing funds to enable the county and city to carry on. While the committee is willing to do what it can to help, the responsibility of providing the necessary funds and of performing their several duties must necessarily be that of the officials whom the people have elected for that purpose.

Further Analysis

In personal comment on the report, Mr. Strawn said, "Cook county now has 38 persons in charge of assessments. There are the 30 town assessors, besides the members of the county assessors and review board. There is no responsible head. The result is so much political dawdling and delay that tax

Si Says a
"Mouthful"

"Have you ever contemplated the stupidity of our people in permitting our municipal machinery to be run by politicians?" asks Silas H. Strawn, chairman of the Citizens' committee to save local governments from bankruptcy, in the February issue of "Nation's Business."

"Frequently the source of our trouble in our municipal government is the system. . . . The professional politician accepts the system as it is. He believes in 'getting his while the getting is good.' So long as the apathetic, or perhaps selfish citizen permits the 'getting' to be 'good,' the politician will 'get his'."

collections are far behind, and so uncertain that the sale of tax warrants is very questionable. If there is a delay in collection. Unless the warrants are sold, the local governments go to the wall."

George O. Fairweather, chairman of the county's Joint Commission on Real Estate Valuation Wednesday urged the County board to support House Bill 28, which provides for the proposed change in assessors. The same day Col. Robert I. Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, the association that "the other alternative is to sit back and do nothing and let the city go to hell, close the schools, suspend payments, submit to a receivership and a militia government."

Whether or not the county towns will permit their township assessors to be abolished without a protest is problematical; for they feel that in them they have local men to stand up for them.

Would Fund 1929 Taxes

As to the 1929 assessment, "there is nothing to do but nullify the 1929 assessment and fund the debt," says the Association of Real Estate Taxpayers in its latest pamphlet, "$548,648,264.00—Our Tax Bills in 1931—Will It Be Paid?"

Chamber of Commerce
To Meet Friday Next Week; Many May Join

The next meeting of the new Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce is scheduled for Friday evening, Feb. 13, at the Village hall. It is hoped that many men will desire to join the organization at this time.

While the former Business Men's association membership is taken over by the Chamber of Commerce, the new group is much broader in scope, to work for the advancement of Arlington Heights industrially, and in a civic way; to handle questions of interest to all residents; in short, everything to promote the growth and prosperity of the community.

Mr. William C. Muller is president; Eugene Heller vice president; Harry Levine, treasurer; Wm. F. Meyer, Jr., secretary; with additional directors as follows: Albert Goedke, Phil. Engeling, Geo. W. Meyer, John Proctor, Henry F. Muller and W. F. Sieburg.

PALATINE TO FORECLOSE ON
DELINQUENTS*Village to Act In Order To Protect Its Bondholders

The Palatine Village Board at its regular monthly meeting Monday night spent a good part of the evening discussing the real estate situation and the large amount of delinquent special assessments. The failure of many subdividers to pay their special assessments for the past two or three years has put things in a deplorable condition. Thousands of dollars worth of bonds and interest coupons are being defaulted by Palatine and every other village because the assessments have not been paid and there are no funds with which to pay bonds and interest.

The Palatine Board is now waiting to see how much of these delinquent assessments are paid to the county and then action will be started to foreclose on all lots which have not been paid up to date. Special assessments are a first lien against the property and come before mortgages or anything else.

Action to foreclose, it is believed, will force the real estate operators and their mortgage holders to some sort of action and the assessments will either have to be paid up to date or they will lose all claim on the property.

Some drastic action is necessary in order to protect the bond holders' interest.

Choral Society to Sing "Creation"

"The Creation," by Joseph Haydn, one of the most famous sacred oratorios, is to be given by the Community Choral society of Arlington Heights next fall, according to a decision made in the meeting during the regular rehearsal in the South Side school building last Monday night.

Rehearsals on this great work are to start soon, and many more singers are desired, although the work can be put on creditably with even as few as fifty singers. The music of "The Creation," while brilliant, is not beyond the capacity of a comparatively new chorus, and it is expected that it will appeal to a number of singers who so far have not joined with the local choral society movement.

Plans are being made for a social to be held in the near future, and to which all interested in singing, or friends of Community chorus members, will be invited.

Schubert's "Serenade," a most exquisite number, was sung for the first time Monday night. The capacity of the chorus to attack more difficult numbers and to sing with expression and power, is developing very gratifyingly with each rehearsal, under the splendid leadership of Mr. Theodore Miltzer.

All lovers of vocal music are cordially invited to join the society. Dues are but ten cents a week.

New Treatment Plant
Nearing Completion

Finishing touches are being made now on the new sewage treatment plant for Arlington Heights. The heavy woven wire fences are about up, and the main plant ready to operate, except that there is a little work on equipment in the pump house, and general cleaning up. One or two of the pumps may be started this week. The plant probably will be in full operation some time this month. At present the flow is direct into Weiler creek.

Clothing Needs
Not Fully Met in Relief Work

Men's warm trousers and men's and children's warm underwear are items reported as especially needed in relief work by Arlington Heights' official relief committee, according to Secretary-Treasurer Fred O. Proctor.

Relief workers are at the Social Service Welfare rooms over the People's State Bank, from 7 to 8 p. m. every Wednesday and Saturday. Miss Martha Jackson, community nurse, will appreciate it considerably if call for her attention and service in relief work are restricted to those hours and days.

"Absentees from the committee meetings are missing a wonderful opportunity to be of service. One hundred per cent attendance is necessary to proper committee action."

No additional registrations of unemployed have been received during the past week.

"MELODIE
DES HERZENS"
COMING HERE*Famous All German Talkie
at Arlington Theatre
February 10 and 11

Again, the Arlington Theatre, our local playhouse, demonstrates the desire to please the patrons of Arlington Heights with entertainment of an unusual manner in presenting on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 10 and 11, the all-German picture "Melodie Des Herzens" which recently created such a sensation in Chicago.

It is a picture which is so beautiful in itself that, primarily, the dialog need form no necessary part. It is not essentially necessary that you understand the German language in order to fully appreciate the qualities of this production. The story can easily be followed, and the musical numbers introduced are so haunting that you will soon be humming them over and marvelling at their catching tunes.

The management of the Arlington Theatre has felt that an account of the numerous folks residing here who are of German extraction, a picture such as "Melodie Des Herzens" will create an appeal strong enough to bring many of these folks to see it who have been denied the opportunity of viewing such a production elsewhere. It is without a doubt an attraction the like of which has never been presented in a city the size of Arlington Heights before.

While the Arlington Theatre has been obliged to go to great expense in order to obtain this picture, the admission prices during the engagement will only be 15 cents for children and 50 cents for adults. Here is your opportunity to see this great picture, perfectly presented in your home theatre, "where talkies sound right."

Arlington Heights Will Have A Population of Over 10,000 In 1933

A man in Chicago once stood on the head of a barrel and shouted to the people about him that some day Chicago would have a population of 50,000. As the story goes, he was booed and laughed at for his extravagance. When we say that Arlington Heights will have a population of over 10,000 people in 1933, we are talking about something that can actually be brought about if the people of Arlington Heights want it.

However, some perfectly sincere folks will want to know, "How we get that way," or "How do we know." Our answer is simply, "Because there is a way to make more people want to live here." And the nice thing about the idea is that it will put money, literally speaking, in everybody's pocket. But before we get into that let us consider for a moment some of the benefits that will come to Arlington Heights with a population of 10,000.

First, every property owner in town will be worth more money! Increased population always creates higher land values. This rule has never failed to work in any town, city or village in the United States that has gained in population.

Second, increased population stabilizes trade by increasing the flow of money to local merchants and workers.

Third, a population of 10,000 makes possible many civic advantages that a smaller population cannot support, creating a direct benefit to every man, woman and child in Arlington Heights.

With a population of 10,000, it is easy to imagine a modern movie palace right on the Northwest Highway; a new depot of brick and stone with up-to-date modern conveniences; a sports and recreation center with swimming pools, tennis courts; a grand stand for baseball and other outdoor celebrations; a comprehensive park system; modern tea rooms, and probably a hotel, too; a public library building; larger churches; lower public utility rates; and a score of other desirable things, all possible with a larger population to justify them.

It is worth while, is it not? Let's begin to think about and discuss plans to make more people want to live in Arlington Heights.

STICKUP MEN PAY VISIT TO
BENSENVILLE*Official Ducks; Yeggs Get Minor Haul of
Some $2000

Just after the First State Bank of Bensenville had opened for the day's business, last Friday about 8:15 a. m., two bold boys from "No one knows where" casually walked into the bank and surprised four employees. About $2,000.00 in currency had been taken from the big vault and placed on the long desk behind the tellers' windows.

Mr. A. W. Fanzen, whose window is nearest the front door of the bank, was immediately covered with guns and in order to save his life his hands went upward quickly.

Vice President W. A. Ernsting; whose window is farthest from the door and who was somewhat screened from the stickup men by the heavy metal grating which reaches high above the desks, was able to quickly duck behind a large steel safe and get into the back room where Mr. Fred Erling and Hazel Fulvey had begun working on the books. He quickly hurried both into the basement and made an attempt to get out the rear door to spread an alarm but when his face came out from the rear of the building a sentinel spied him, and after dodging back and forth a few moments, he turned and sped down the alley, where he found himself still unharmed. With only one man to overcome the stickup men forced Mr. Franzen to hand over what cash was on the desk and then beat a hasty retreat.

The men had apparently alighted from an old Chevrolet car at the corner of Center street and Railroad avenue and walked leisurely across the railroad track and up Main street unnoticed, while the driver of the car drove past Bensenville's place to a point back of the depot where he could easily see the hold up men as they left the bank; when he drove across the track and picked up his two accomplices off the sidewalk west of the bank.

The fact that Mr. Ernsting had escaped and was in a position to stop their little game, no doubt made the robbers take what was in sight and make a quick getaway, not forcing Mr. Franzen to open the big vault and give them access to that. Not a shot was fired and this no doubt because the bank employees in the rear of the building did not start it. Had Mr. Ernsting taken advantage of the high powered rifle from the back room the bandits no doubt would have taken revenge on Mr. Franzen, whom they had covered with their guns.

Mrs. G. Zander had her plans made, her guests invited, and all details arranged to entertain two tables of guests at bridge Monday. When she received a message to come to her mother who was very ill in her home in the city. Then like a good neighbor, and friendly class friend, Mrs. Fred Nieman stepped into the breach, opened her home as well as her heart, and carried out Mrs. Zander's entertainment to the grateful relief of one who needed just such a friend in need. O, that more were like that in our boasted city of good neighbors.

Mrs. Andrew Duthorn is another one who is shut in with the all too prevalent type of flu so many are complaining of this winter.

Mrs. Augusta Peter entertained her usual group of old time friends to help her celebrate her birthday Saturday.

The children of St. James school are busy preparing for the play to be given next Sunday. Rehearsing and drilling for their parts and happy in anticipation of their part in the success they are to make of their play.

Betty and Janet Vetter came from Michigan to visit relatives here over the week-end.

Mrs. Charles Drake on North Dunton entertained the Sunshine club Thursday afternoon this week in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Laeske's daughter, Miss Selma is not as well as her friends could wish. We hope when winter is past she will regain her health.

Mr. Peter Thomas of Kensington road has been down at Cape Girardeau, Missouri, a business tour for some time.

A letter from friends in Florida says spring began with them with the coming of February. Well it seems like spring right here.

Mr. Rudolph Haseman came home too ill to work at his duties in Chicago last week, but now is on the road to recovery.

Miss Adele Adam has resumed her duties as a Kindergarten teacher in Kenosha, Wis., after being home since the Xmas holidays, having undergone an operation for appendicitis.

Friends of the Gorecki family were sorry to hear of the death of Mr. Walter Gorecki, Jan. 26. There remain to mourn his departure, his wife, Michalina and seven daughters: Stella, Dr. Helen E. Mae, Clara, Julia, Hattie and Irene. The funeral was from his daughter's Dr. Helen E. Gorecki - Rudnick's residence, 5540 Berteau Ave., Chicago, Friday, Jan. 30, to St. Stanislaus church. Interment at St. Adalberts. The Gorecki family were residents of Arlington Heights many years, their home being at 306 East Hawthorne St., but recently sold it and moved to Naperville where they bought a home.

Embert Stangor, wife and son Embert Jr. and Harold, of Des Plaines were guests of Howard Helm and family Sunday.

Little Miss Ruth Dorothy Heuer, of Barrington, was a guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Herman Tesch, Monday.

Annabel Johnson returned to school after being shut in with scarlet fever the whole month of January.

Mr. and Mrs. McCrimmon, of Elgin were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Noble Puffer, Sunday.

The Corephilia society met with Mrs. Fayette Briggs, Monday evening, at which time a surprise shower was given to Mrs. James McElhose, (nee Hazel Moyer.)

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Thomas and Anabel enjoyed a pleasant visit with their Uncle John Schuetz and family at Forest Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Wahl of Des Plaines, visited their daughter, Mrs. Ed. Brodin and family, one day last week.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schoenbeck has so far recovered from a touch of pneumonia so as to be out again.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Brodin has been ill and under the care of a physician.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Adam entertained friends of Chicago at their home, Sunday, Jan. 25.

The Auxiliary of the Boy Scouts met with A. McElhose, Wednesday of last week.

Mr. Walter Gorecki, Formerly Resident of Arlington, Passes On

Mr. Walter Gorecki who with his family were for many years citizens of Arlington Heights, where the seven daughters grew into young womanhood, died Monday, January 26, 1931, in Chicago.

He remained during his last illness, which was of some duration, at the new and larger home property near Naperville, Illinois, a property they thought very beautiful, and where they had been less than a year. Toward the end of his illness he consented to be brought to Chicago to be near all his children.

The last rites were from Dr. Helen Gorecki-Rudnick's, 5540 Berteau avenue to St. Stanislaus church, Friday, Jan. 30, at ten o'clock.

Only one daughter remains in the home town, Hattie, Mrs. Walter Jaster, while the youngest, Irene, is a student at Northwestern university. The other daughters are Stella, Marie, Julie, and Clara, besides Dr. Helen Gorecki-Rudnick. Several of the daughters are prepared for professional careers.

Mr. Gorecki was a most upright man, of strong character, and an expert in his line of business and was highly esteemed. Mrs. Gorecki has been a faithful and devoted home-maker, and her many friends and church connections here will appreciate her great loss.

Local Scouts to Join National Celebration

National observance of the twenty-first anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America will start Sunday, Feb. 8, and continue throughout the week until Saturday, Feb. 14. A great variety of activities will mark the observance of this anniversary, for each troop is planning its own program along the lines that will be most beneficial to the particular community.

To Attend Church Services. Sunday has been set aside as Scout Sunday and many of the churches are arranging special services for that day in recognition of the boy and his religious training. Many troops will attend services in a body in Scout uniform and participate actively in the services as well as listen to a sermon that is fitting to the occasion.

To Reaffirm Pledge to Scout Ideals. At eight o'clock Sunday evening every Boy Scout in the United States and Possessions will recommitt himself to the ideals of Scouting by repeating the Scout pledge or oath. This will be accomplished where possible by having Scouts come in small groups and join in the recommittment ceremony that will be conducted by some National official over one of the great networks of radio. In other instances the Scouts will solemnly perform this ceremony in their own homes. The significance of Scouting will be apparent as 850,000 men and boys simultaneously pledge themselves "to do their duty to God and their Country; to obey the Scout Law; to help other people at all times; and to keep themselves physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

To List Former Scouts. Another feature of Anniversary Week observance will be an attempt to list every man or boy that is now or has been a Scout or Scouter during the twenty-one years of Scouting. Blanks will be provided by the local headquarters and these men and boys will be asked to note the time they were in Scouting, their present location and occupation. These facts will all be compiled in an effort to find out what positions and stations in life that are being filled by former Scouts. It is estimated that approximately 4,500,000 boys have been influenced by the Scout program during the past twenty-one years.

Many Other Activities. There will be many other features and activities in the weeks program in the Northwest district. Special troop meetings, window displays, hikes and outings, parents' meetings, demonstrations and good turns will complete the program of the troops; while service clubs, schools, civic organizations and other local groups have been requested to join in the observance by having some special recognition of the boy or scouting at their regular meetings during next week.

ATTENTION FELLOWS

Have you ever been out on overnight hikes?

Could you make a comfortable bed with just an ax?

Do you know how good food tastes cooked over an open fire at camp?

Can you tie just all sorts of knots?

Can you swim?

Could you administer first aid in time of need?

Do you know what scouting means?

Here is your chance to find out. Any fellow over twelve is eligible. Why miss out?

Report any Monday night, 7:30 p. m., at the American Legion Home, West Campbell Ave. Find out if it appeals to you.

ARLINGTON SCOUT NEWS

A joint meeting and court of review was held for troop 5 and 7 last Monday.

Next Monday, Feb. 9, a Court of Honor will be held at the High School gym for Arlington Heights Scouts. All parents are invited to attend. Help your sons' troop by coming. It helps their voting. All boys are to attend in uniform.

Let's make a good showing fellows, and turn out in uniform 100 per cent next Sunday for church. Meet at Legion Home at 10:30 in uniform.

Next week is Scout week. This marks the 21st year of scouting. Scouts will have a window display and all scouts are to help by making in handicraft articles to be on display.

There has been the custom in past years to wear your scout uniform to school and work during scout week. Let's keep up this tradition.

Come and see the awards of merits next Monday at High school.

One of the leading programs of the year to be given by the Friendly class will be at 8 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian parish house, when the club and visitors will be addressed by Dr. A. F. Polson, Chicago lecturer on dietetics, whose subject will be "Man Lives on He Eats." Dr. Polson has addressed some 250 church organizations in Chicago and vicinity on this general subject, which the club is sure will prove of great interest to those who attend.

What if the groundhog did see his shadow. There were other hogs did too.

Big blaze Sunday night called out as many autos as a campaign orator could have attracted.

Mr. Raoul Poeter returned to his place of employment Monday after wearing out an attack of flu, at home.

Mrs. Gordon Zander was called to Chicago Monday on account of her mother's illness.

Dr. E. W. Bauman attended a dental convention at the Stevens hotel in the city this week.

Mrs. H. A. Kossack and daughter Lois have been ill this week with a prevalent form of flu.

L. C. Burkitt well known among older residents of Arlington Heights died Friday last week in a hospital at Waterloo, Iowa. Saturday his nieces and nephews, children of his brother, John W. Burkitt, drove to Waterloo to attend his funeral. Mr. L. C. Burkitt's wife died two or three years ago. He had no children.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harris and Mrs. Harris' mother, Mrs. Gorsuch drove to Beloit Tuesday to visit the husband of another daughter, Mr. McKee who is very ill.

Mr. Joseph Vetter has returned home after taking his brother, John Vetter and wife to Phoenix, Arizona, hoping this change of climate might benefit this brother, who has been ill for a long time. He stood the trip well and seemed to be improving.

Watch for Winkelman's Tire & Battery Shop big tire sale this month. You won't be sorry you waited. Also every automobile accessory can be bought here. And at reasonable price.

Mrs. Humphrey was hostess for a Desert Luncheon Thursday last week for the benefit of The Friendly Class Talent Fund. A Desert Luncheon in this individual luncheon consisted of orange ice, cake and coffee. There were nine tables for a friendly group of friendly young ladies. Bridge was the feature of entertainment with their kindly hostess.

C. E. McWharther made a business trip to Louisville last week. Monday this week the Thurman Dodge family and the Carl Skoog family changed residences, the Skoogs moving to the Dodge residence on the north side and the Dodges moving to the Skoog's place on the south side. That's interesting. A sort of "pussy wants the corner exchange."

Mrs. Leslie Griffith entertained a group of ladies in her home on Tuesday. Bridge was the main feature of entertainment.

Mr. Herbert Ackley was kept at home the past week by illness, a brand of the severe cold or flu so many are having. But with high fever, he was indeed a sick man.

Mrs. Brauman from Crown Point was a week-end guest of the H. C. Cleveland especially little Billie.

Several members of the Sunshine club enjoyed a luncheon in the city last week Wednesday, after attending a play at the theatre.

Dr. E. W. Bauman says "Dr. O. W. Silberhorn, a prominent dentist of Chicago and Professor of Dentistry at North Western University is one of our new residents in Searsdale. Welcome Doctor, we are sure you will like Arlington Heights.

The Ideal club of St. James church held a pleasant social meeting with Mrs. Albert Goedke in her home Thursday last week. Games and a genial good time was enjoyed. This week Thursday a special meeting will be held with Mrs. F. J. Sachs.

Elroy Winkelman says that Arlington Heights people are availing themselves of the nice weather to get their automobile batteries in shape for the cold spell that is bound to come soon. He does the work at a reasonable price.

Mrs. G. H. Goodspeed entertained a group of friends at a one o'clock luncheon Thursday for the benefit of the Friendly class talent fund. In social parlance "another pleasing affair."

Mrs. Arthur Mundy and Mrs. William Jahn entertained a group of twelve ladies in the home of Mrs. Mundy, Friday afternoon last week. The guest of honor was Mrs. Rexford Volz. The decorations were in pink and yellow prettily and artistically arranged. A choice luncheon was daintily served. Bridge at four tables was a feature of the entertainment. The guest of honor was presented with a wicker wardrobe of pretty design. Of course she was surprised and the guests shared in the pleasure and sentiment of the occasion.

Mrs. Caroline Fiene with her son Walter, his wife and babies, drove over to Itasca to share in the birthday anniversary of her sister in law, Mrs. Genke's anniversary. It was a happy family party. Mr. and Mrs. Siebers, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gehrke and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gerth, also Mr. and Mrs. Himmeler of Forest Park. All had a most enjoyable visit, and social conference on familiar family topics and changes.

Dr. Etzelmuller entertained a merry party of friends in his apartment Saturday evening on South Dunton Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lamoth have moved into Mrs. Caroline Fiene's house on North Dunton avenue recently vacated by Mr. Lawrence Traub and daughter.

The Mother's club will meet Wednesday, Feb. 4, at the home of Miss Jackson, Landmeier apartments. There will be miscellaneous topics for the evening. Mothers please have a question ready for the question box. All mothers urged to come.

Mr. John Martens returned to his work Monday. We hope he will be able to continue gaining health and strength after his enforced vacation.

OBSERVER'S NOTES

O, we're a funny lot of folks. We sing gay songs and tell our jokes. Not always wise. We sometimes, when behind folks Say unkind things and deal them whacks. And criticize. Yet, should a real shadow fall, Sickness or death we one and all, Do sympathize.

We are just folks, real folks, and in our town do just as we do in families. We laugh and sing and tell our jokes and often scrap and deal rough pokes. Yet when trouble comes we realize the kind of kin and we are one.

When trouble comes, as in a family, so in our community of "real folks." We sincerely sympathize and deeply desire to aid those of our town in trouble or distress. Too often these kindly waves of sympathy soon pass. We recall one who told us of the time when sickness, financial troubles and death overwhelmed her home, so many came with kind offers of sympathy and help, forgotten in a month when the crisis came.

Yes, we're a jolly lot of folks, Help to bear burdens, help bear yokes.

And realize Even when all is out of joint We don't view things from the same point.

If we are wise, And we mean well, even when our limited vocabulary does not help us to express all that we feel or wish to do help.

Here is this unemployment situation, what a problem it is? Of course there are those who will not work unless they get their choice of a job. Others are not fitted to do the work offered them. Still others glad to work at any thing to earn an honest living. An honest day's work had rather starve than accept charity. I heard of one man who has lost his job who said, "I do not want charity, I want work; my family will starve unless I get work. I must work."

This is written with the sun shining; a glorious day. How little we realize that the sunshine means to us until we have dark days without it. Think of those people away in Alaska, where the sun shone on them for the first in two months and then only for a few minutes. How they went wild with joy to see it shine.

You know Will Lauterburg, our faithful ice man who goes to Barrington for ice and gives it to his customers in huge crystal blocks? Well, saw him the other day just throwing that same commodity away in a most wasteful manner. Yes, it was the ice and snow made ice on that wide walk along his Mother's place on Evergreen and Campbell streets. He made a good job of it, too. You see, he thinks nothing of carrying 100 lbs. of ice on his sturdy shoulders.

What do you know about Art Brisbane, out boosting California, and "all points" west? Telling real estate opportunities and opportunities for investment west of the Rockies, right off the publicity reel. Ripe fruits, strawberries and all that comes to us in June, just as any amateur learns them from his guide book. Never mind "Artie me boy" we'll get them all here at home when the wheel turns round our way, and it will.

Poinsettias, California's Christmas flower, is blooming here all holiday time. That's right, Mrs. Berchold had placed two plants in her garden last spring and they grew and were thrifty and vigorous when she brought them in.

They gave great clusters of flowers to cheer her at Christmas and all through the holidays are blooming still. "A thing of beauty and a joy forever" in the home of this shut-in friend.

Did you read what Mrs. McLaughlin says about dogs, especially about hydrophobia? Of the two or three thousand homeless dogs that have come to her dog refuge, she claims not one has had that disease. She agrees with many scientists in saying there is no such disease, that dogs simply go mad for lack of care.

Few dogs have the right sort of masters, few are cared for as they should be. When a dog runs and chases all the time he nearly dies for water, and there should always be water where he can drink as he wants it. Under certain conditions a dog goes mad from neglect and his bite may produce blood poisoning. Take care of your dog and always be sure it has proper food and water.

Across our street on the corner boys lately had a fine snow fort. However, it was almost destroyed by a fierce bombardment that had the fury of war in it. In the evening, Mrs. Flodine called us to see the snow church or cathedral Mr. Flodine had made for their grandchildren, sure enough there it was built with the skill Mr. Flodine puts into all his work, and as it was the vesper hour, a lighted candle sent its beams across the sheets of snow. A pretty sight.

The snow was in many ways a real Godsend. It filled the cracks and crevices, thus shutting out the cold from poor old houses. It helped to clear the air of impurities and supplied needed moisture to the ground. For some of us it did even greater things, it seemed to soothe the sinking spirit and to quiet the troubled heart. As if each flake brought a message of peace to bring earth and heaven nearer. Looking out over the great white spaces, there was no horizon line. Earth and sky blended into one. That night of the snow, January 18, 1931.

A wonderful world of crystal white Came as a dream to us last night; Thought to illumine, by angels sent, Out of the measureless firmament.

In a rapture of wonder it did seem, We awakened floating as in a dream: Down from the skies we say them fall, Like soothing messages comforting all.

Soft, white mantles draped each tree, In festoons hung so airy; Over rose and lilac shrub and vine, In feathery festoons they did twine.

Over the roofs silent and white, Soft white messages spread last night; Land of enchantment, nothing to mar, Pure as the thoughts of angels are.

Canto's of poems, never freed, From mortal brain, none but poets may read; Over this sin stained earth sent down, To hide the ugly things in this town.

Blending in one seemed earth and sky, Where snow meets snow flakes drifted high; Soothing the heart so silent they bring, Peace that passeth understanding. What the message the snowflakes brought? Everyone a pure white thought, While Paul's message still it brings "Whatsoever is lovely, think on these things."

"Who pays the fiddler." All right, sounds like an important query, just now when we look ahead to at least three months' winter and "near" winter. "Who pays the coal bill" seems vastly more important and the prices of coal do not show a mite of consideration for our feelings (or limitations of purse). Never mind, hens begin to lay, strawberries are on the market and the men sport a new style derby.

Do you know the fog, the deceitful prophesies, the fog, the fog, more cold weather and those movement impeding long derpsy writing. Yes, sir, you may blame it to "business depression" if you will, its not that. Just read Will Rogers and note the difficulty he had to put any show of zip in his writing today. We've all got it, like I told you.

Here's one wise way to cheat the "Lack of Employment bogie." Mr. and Mrs. Simon Mitchell, after a few weeks stay with Mrs. Mitchell's brother, Principal Brown and family, are planning to go to their farm homestead in Jasper county, a small place set with all manner of fruits and where for the coming summer, they will raise berries, fruits, and vegetables and flowers as they well have done and know to do, and snap their fingers at unemployment. (Countryside copy if you wish to).

Back to nature, spite of "The lame ducks" Congressmen bewailing their fate, they have their wings left and ducks never were much as pedestrians. That reminds us, one of the Chicago papers told of a hundred grey geese in a flock flying in a V up on the lake shore. The place had once been a marsh, a favorite resort for ducks and geese. In the past two years, the marsh has been made into a park. These "back home" seekers were doomed to disappointment and had to go farther south. At any rate this was a hundred geese material for geese flying southward, proved colder weather coming. Geese have a queer sort of instinct. Lame ducks in Washington suffering from cold feet, better fly home.

Do you remember "way back when" Mr. W. Guild's sleighbells used greet the boys and girls on the school ground when the shipping was good? How eagerly they hailed the sound of those bells and the hearty "Climb in boys" until the old bobsled looked like a piece of honey black with bees. Boys and girls now almost grandmothered used to listen and watch for the old bells, the bob sled and kindly man who took them for such jolly sleighrides.

Not only school boys and girls remember those jolly sleighrides, but the Woman's club, church aids and private groups, were as happy riding in that old bobsled as ever were the riders in chariots in older times. Folks as the added years come to them get a bit of joy when they find a kindly deed of the past is remembered and know many will assure Mr. Guild, they do remember those rides.

That Parent-Teachers association is a fine thing. Parents are the all important factor in the children's lives. Home is their kingdom, parents their first right, safeguard and home their safest haven for play and rest. Teachers cannot take the parents' place or free them of responsibility. The association may encourage cooperation and help to build each into a truer knowledge of their responsibilities.

A certain newspaper has for its slogan "The Paper for People Who Think." How would it be to write to make other people think? Someone wrote a poem, addressed to "The Maker of Dreams." Let us implore favor from the maker of thoughts.

Auto License Fees Increase in 1930
Springfield, Ill., Feb. 1.—Cook county's total automobile license fees paid the state for 1930 was $7,721,814, an increase of $747,836 over 1929, according to the annual figures announced today by Secretary of State William J. Stratton. The statistics, showing the annual automobile license fee expenditures of the respective counties, will be turned over by Secretary of State Stratton to the finance department of the state government where they will be used as the basis for allocating each county's one cent share of the three cent gas tax. The secretary of state's office collected a total of $18,477,146.00 in automobile license fees in 1930. All of this money is turned into the state treasury to be used exclusively for road building.

The following tabulation compares automobile license fees collected in 1930 and 1929:
Cook $ 7,721,814 $ 6,973,468
DuPage 299,980 274,130
Kane 394,446 368,146
Lake 370,505 322,067
Total $18,477,146 $17,087,209

Mr. and Mrs. E. Schwiesow of Edison Park, were Tuesday afternoon callers at Frank Sauers.

Mr. W. E. Kopplin left Saturday for a business trip into Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Gordon called Saturday afternoon to see his mother, Mrs. Calvin Mitchell.

Alfred Johnson and family spent Sunday with his sister in Chicago.

The John Sayers family were Sunday visitors at Lockport and Orland.

Mrs. Victor Pecchia is recovering from the flu. Mrs. Pecchia, Sr., who has been ill for some time is also better.

Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson, North Ridge avenue, spent an evening at cards with Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Pope.

Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sauers visited Elmer Haseman at Long Grove.

Mrs. Jansen from Cleveland came Saturday to visit indefinitely with her daughter, Mrs. Richards.

J. D. Allison was called to Galesburg, Saturday because of the serious illness of his father. The family returned Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mitzloff, So. Mitchell, have purchased a home in Stonegate.

Mrs. W. E. Kopplin and children went to Racine, Sunday to visit relatives and offer congratulations to a niece, who was graduated Friday.

Little Doris Jane Meyer, So. Walnut, who has been having pneumonia is a little better.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sauer and children visited Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pratt in Chicago, Sunday.

Named Great River
The Columbia river was named by Capt. Robert Gray, who discovered it in 1791. It was named for his ship, the Columbia, which he had sailed around the world. He was the first to carry the American flag around the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson and Mr. Thompson's mother and brother came Saturday to celebrate Mr. Woolmer's birthday. Mrs. Thompson is remaining with her parents for a longer visit.

C. C. Compton, entomologist, was in Urbana, the first of the week attending a conference.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Richards were pleasantly surprised Friday evening when several friends came to remind them of the event which took place fourteen years ago. The guests enjoyed cards, the Richards enjoyed and still are enjoying a lovely pull-up chair, presented by the guests, and every one enjoyed refreshments which the guests also provided. In fact, every one had an enjoyable time and they are all looking forward to next year when they can celebrate the crystal wedding.

Voice of the People
"GOOD WILL NODS"
Mr. Editor: I would like to answer the person who wrote the article in last week's paper under the above heading.
I feel that it is unjust to the home-keepers of our village. For many weeks the calls of the kind referred to, have been coming in from different charitable organizations by radio and by personal calls. The wagons come right to the door. Many of our homes have given everything they had of that kind. This call has been late in coming before us. We can however, if we haven't clothing to give, send money to help buy the things needed. Go without some pleasure you are thinking of paying money for and give the price to the needy. And verily Ye shall have your reward."

Miss Mayme Hunn visited her sister and family at Libertyville, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnson are the proud parents of a baby boy born Friday, Jan. 30, at St. Mary's hospital, Chicago. Congratulations. Mrs. Johnson formerly was Isabelle Mayer.

Mrs. Louise Tonne of Lake Zurich spent Monday with her daughters, Misses Betty and Rose Tonne.

Mrs. George E. Miller, Route 1, Arlington Heights, was a recent guest at the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

The Dorcas Aid Valentine party planned for Feb. 12, has been cancelled. Instead, during Lent, a missionary address will probably be given, to be announced later.

Note—The writer of some of these locals begs to state that if certain are a little old, they were written for last week but did not get in under the wire.

During February the Fidelis circle of the Methodist Ladies' aid will bake and deliver to order cake, pies, cookies, baked beans, doughnuts, bread, soup and deserts. Call Arlington Heights 314-J, 179 or 425-J and leave orders. (2-20)

Miss Verna Gahlbeck is on the sick list.

Mrs. Lawrence Ellis of Des-Plaines called on her mother, Mrs. F. Tesch, Sr., one day last week.

Mr. Jos. Lindner is erecting a large chicken house. He should be able to make the most in the baby chick proposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sieburg and daughter, Charmion, with her cousin, Geraldine Firnbach, drove to Libertyville Sunday to see their cousin, Mrs. Max Miller who was leaving for Arizona.

The Fred Sieburg family have done their bit to relieve unemployment having their home completely decorated by a neighbor who has been out of work since early last summer. They received good work at a low figure and consider this a good time to decorate.

Mrs. Andrew Stahl, N. Dutton Avenue, has had several rooms decorated and floors sanded and redone. Mr. A. Erickson did the work.

The Presbyterian missionary society will hold a thank offering on Friday, Feb. 20. Miss Towne of Chicago will be the speaker.

A pair of men's rubbers and a silk scarf on loan at the South school Monday night after rehearsal.

Vets of Foreign Wars in Appeal for New Members

Did you see foreign service under the stars and stripes? Have you been in Uncle Sam's army, navy or Marine corps in war time, outside of the United States? Were you one of the "fighting men of the U. S.?"

Have you seen service afield or afloat on foreign soil or in foreign waters, for which service the government has authorized a campaign medal or service clasp?

Those who served do not need to be told of the peculiar and strong bonds of comradeship existing between those who crossed the seas on transports, endured hardships on foreign soil, the dangers and privations of actual service.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States is the only national organization composed exclusively of veterans who served on foreign soil and in hostile waters in the wars, campaigns and expeditions conducted by the United States.

You are eligible—If you served in the army, navy or marine corps of the United States on foreign soil or in hostile waters in any war, insurrection or expedition, for which the government issues a campaign badge or service clasp. The Veterans of Foreign Wars extends to you the hand of comradeship. I like that word comrades.

To me it means more than brother and but little less than love. It brings back memories of grim, gay transports; camps pitched on foreign shores; weary hikes, nights in the trenches and unforgettable days on bloody battlefields.

Every man in the V. F. W. feels like I do about this. Every member "speaks my language." I believe in stability. The V. F. W. has twenty-seven years of splendid history to its credit and is today younger, bigger and better than ever before.

I want to see the ideals for which I work carried on when I am gone, and I like to think the work will be carried on by other comrades long after I have answered the last roll call because the V. F. W. is perpetual.

I do not believe a Veteran order should concern itself with religious, political or labor controversies. During all the years of its history the V. F. W. has consistently refrained from such action and has never lost sight of its first great object—to look after the veteran, his widow and his orphan and to preserve the reminiscences and memories of camp and field beyond the borders of our native land.

I believe I owe a duty to my comrades and know of no more logical way of discharging it than in the V. F. W. It helps in my daily work to look upon the little bronze cross of Malta in my lapel and remember that it means to me as a man and a citizen.

I believe in the Veterans of Foreign Wars because of its constructive leadership, its fine ideals, stirring history and because it binds into hallowed comradeship America's old guard—the men who have fought her battles in Foreign Lands and Waters during seventy years of campaigning—the golden age of American chivalry.

In conclusion at this time I ask you Mr. Ex-Serviceman, if you believe in these ideals, and if you have the answer to these questions on your honorable discharge, then it is your duty to your disabled buddies and to your buddies who have gone west, to help carry on the necessary work to be done in this large field.

If you served overseas in any campaign sign up with the V. F. W.

"Join the Gold Stripe Organization."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 1.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee" (Jeremiah 31:3).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Owe no man anything, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law" (Romans 13:8).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Universal Love is the divine way in Christian Science" (p. 296).

A Lenten folder has been prepared which will be sent to every such home in the community.

TWO TRUCKS BURN GASOLINE EXPLODES IN STUBBORN FIRE

In a stubborn fire Sunday night in the fire structure formerly used as a laundry on the Garland property on Hickory avenue, east of town, two of the Pontarelli contractor's trucks were destroyed, two drums of gasoline exploded, a quantity of rubber belting and other equipment, and considerable of the building consumed.

The flames and smoke shooting from the asphalt roofing aroused the residents on the property, who raised the alarm. So heavy was the traffic on the narrow section of the Northwest highway, as to seriously interfere with the quick access to the fire by the fire department, and police had their hands full handling traffic afterward.

The fire broke out in spite of repeated applications of water, and tearing down of walls containing embers. Even after the firemen finally left, they were called back again by another alarm at 12:30 o'clock, apparently from some greasy material breaking again into flames.

The cause of the fire is unknown; it is thought that there might have been a short circuit on one of the trucks.

Mt. Prospect Department

Mr. and Mrs. Marten Cristensen and family have returned home from a two week's vacation with Mrs. Christensen's parents at S. Dell, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Knight and daughter from S. Dell, and Miss Delma Dillon returned with them for an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Corliss Fosdick are the happy parents of a baby boy that arrived Monday, Feb. 2. This is the reason for our "Corky's" road smile.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Dahlstrom and Mr. and Mrs. Jonas attended the Temple Baptist church at Chicago Sunday.

Little Florence Flinn had her tonsils removed last Thursday at the Women and Children's hospital by Dr. Louise Koester.

Earl Shetterly drove down from Kalamazoo with his brother.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Prospect Post 1337 will hold their meeting February 6, at the Community hall at 8 o'clock. All who have had a brother, son or father that has seen overseas service are heartily invited to join this wonderful organization. You will have the satisfaction to know you are doing your bit no matter how small that bit may be toward those boys that are still paying with pain physically and mentally, for the sacrifices made by them twelve long years ago. So let us all get together and show them we have not forgotten.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of Prospect Post have been invited to attend a Valentine party given by the Ladies Auxiliary of that Post Saturday evening, February 14, at the Community hall. All the boys of this Post are urged to attend as the ladies have planned a very pleasant evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vosgrau and grandson, Raymond, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Flesch, Sunday.

Anna Leona and Lenora Gromal are all back from the hospital having been operated on tonsils and adenoids, Saturday.

The sympathy of all goes out to the children and relatives of the dear mother, Mrs. William Gerken, who passed away Sunday, Feb. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Busse are the proud parents of a baby boy born Friday, January 30. The baby weighs 10½ lbs.

The Jolly Bunch met at the home of Mrs. William Gerken Wednesday where a lovely luncheon was served.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's church met Thursday afternoon, the chief discussion being the pastoral 3-day conference which will be held next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at which the Ladies' Aid of this church will serve.

Reverend J. E. A. Mueller of the St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran church has announced there will be German services on Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock and English on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock during the Lenten period, which will begin Feb. 18.

Mrs. Paul Holste and Miss Alice Mueller spent Monday evening with Miss Clara Katz of Des Plaines.

Little Shirley Mae Flesch celebrated her birthday Wednesday with her sisters and brothers, Shirley Mae, being two years old.

Mr. E. Pingle had been taking care of her sister, Mrs. Frazier, who has been very ill since last week Thursday. Mrs. Pingle herself was taken sick Monday and a nurse has taken her place at her sister's home.

Thirteen members of Prospect Post Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, 1337 were present at the installation of officers of the American Legion Auxiliary. Miss Alice Mueller, the president wished them luck and success in behalf of her auxiliary to Mount Prospect Post Auxiliary of the American Legion.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mueller and family from Jefferson Park spent Sunday with Mr. and Miss Mueller of Main street.

We heartily welcome Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Strom to Mount Prospect. These are our new residents of Prospect Manor avenue.

Mrs. H. Gunderson entertained the Sewing circle at a luncheon Wednesday afternoon.

The Community church Ladies' Circle held their meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Anderson. Mrs. Bolton and Mrs. Pankonin assisting.

Several friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pankonin Saturday night. A very sociable evening was spent.

Mrs. E. Wolfe has been confined to her home for several days with a very severe cold.

Woman's club board meeting was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Emmet Worley.

Little David Bolton has been very ill with the flu, but is now doing nicely.

Mrs. Raymond Flesch is now operating a beauty parlor at Palatine.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Mount Prospect Post No. 525 of the American Legion are holding their meeting Monday, Feb. 9, at 8 o'clock.

"Second Childhood" Is Ready for You

Rehearsals and preparations for the comedy "Second Childhood" have arrived at the hectic stage. The little band of players are ready to deliver a worthwhile evening of entertainment and the confidence that comes with plenty of study is becoming more evident.

One of the difficulties of stage production comes with the over-zealous activity of the players. As the eleventh hour approaches the members of the cast are not unlike nervous young racing steeds. The Concordia players, however, have past performances on their side. Mature members of the cast hold the youngsters in leash and the excitement wanes.

Word comes to the players that the committee is supporting them wholeheartedly and that they guarantee two full houses to play to. A staff of technicians will see to it that the back-stage mechanics of the production will move along smoothly.

One of the most important jobs that falls to the lot of the staff is the selection of "book-holders." These are the persons upon whom rests the responsibility to be ready with "props" and watching the course of the lines. The Concordia cast will not need constant prompting but it is rather comforting to know that an intelligent crew is ready backstage to back up the performance.

Rudy Seidel and Herman Noll have developed into a pair of team mates that should bring down the house. Much of the plot rests on the shoulders of these two, but previous experience enables them to display veteran ability.

Myrtle Gosch is developing into a real ingenue. An earnest desire to live the part she has been selected to play causes her performance to show rare understanding. The Misses Kateike and Israel have become capable character actresses in the last few weeks.

Mrs. Thill carries one of the heavy parts. In addition to the responsible position the part demands in the plot she must add about twenty years in her delineation of "Auntie." Assuming age is no easy matter as any young woman will tell you.

As stated before, the show committee is doing great work with ticket sales. However, if you have not yet bought your ticket, any member of Concordia League will be glad to supply you. The committee wishes to assure you that now, particularly when conditions demand careful buying, a ticket to "Second Childhood" is a "good buy" in every sense of the word.

The two performances will be held on Friday and Saturday of next week (February 13 and 14) in the Lutheran School Auditorium.

CAMPFIRE NOTES

World Friendship is the theme for the Camp Fire program for this year. That is a timely interest and local groups of Camp Fire Girls will give time and thought to what they can do to help in furthering friendship among nations. Several projects are suggested for groups to carry out, such as the sending of Treasures Chests to school children of Porto Rico, under the auspices of the committee on World Friendship Among Children. Last year the Masconten and the Potawatami Camp Fire groups each sent such a treasure chest to the schools of the Philippine Islands, and the year before Friendship Bags were sent to the school of Mexico.

Another project is the sending of Friendship dolls to the schools of Japan.

Other suggestions offer local groups fine opportunity for making this year's work one of exceptional value.

The Masconten Camp Fire group will have a moonlight hike on Thursday evening of this week, if the weather is favorable.

At least one Indian still has faith in the honesty of the paleface. A collection of Indian pottery, untended by a salesman, was spread before the doors of a downtown department store in Phoenix, Ariz., recently. A sign above the collection attested that it was genuine Hopi pottery. And on the sign was the pencilled notation: "Gone to lunch. Will be back."

To Amend By-Laws At Improvement Assn. Meeting Next Monday

The regular monthly meeting of the members of the Mount Prospect Improvement Association will be held Monday, Feb. 9, at the Community hall, at 8:00 o'clock. Several matters of importance will be submitted for consideration and action. An amendment to the by-laws providing for reduction of the annual dues will also be presented for discussion. The attendance of every member is urged.

LEGION AUXILIARY GIVES PARTY TONIGHT

The Mount Prospect American Legion auxiliary is giving a public sociable at the Public School building Friday, Feb. 6, at 8:00 o'clock. This party is being given for the purpose of raising money for Legion Welfare work. This is your opportunity to show your appreciation of this work and to have an evening brimful of fun and frolic at the same time.

Mrs. Weiss, chairman of the Welfare committee, would appreciate it if anyone desirous of Legion Welfare Aid would communicate with her. Help this good work along and be prompt Friday night at 8:00 o'clock.

MT. PROSPECT POST NO. 525 LEGIONNAIRE

The meeting of Monday last developed into a stormy session with plenty of floor debates on Legion-sponsored bills before the folks down in Washington. The Glenn Bill, instigated by the Legion lobby and now before Congress was given support by Mt. Prospect Post.

The Glenn Bill provides for improved hospital facilities for disabled veterans. The new post voted unanimously in favor of immediate payment of the Bonus. This question has been the subject of considerable debate in Legion circles. In view of the fact that the Bonus was made possible in the first place in answer to a Legion demand, some of the membership leaders have been reluctant to permit organized action.

A date has been asked of the Executive committee of the Country Club upon which to hold the first dance of Mt. Prospect Post. The event will be held on a Saturday early in April. One of Chicago's best club orchestras will provide music and there will be novelties that will be long remembered by the folks in our village.

The dance will herald the opening of the season of events. Ambitious plans are under way for a mammoth musical production later on. The Spring Season looks unusually bright for the new band of veterans.

Almost every member of the post has a regulation Legion cap. These Legion caps, patterned after the overseas caps of World War days, are the emblems by which Legionnaires are recognized the world over. You will see them worn wherever civic events are held from Glasgow around the world to Shanghai. Look for the man in the Blue overseas caps with the gold piping and the Legion emblem.

Luther League Program Greatly Enjoyed

The A. L. L. Rally (American Luther League) held Sunday, February 1, at the St. Paul Auditorium was a great success, the hall being filled to capacity. A large program included by the children of St. Paul's Christian Day school. The teachers surely felt greatly rewarded for their efforts in making this such a great success when they heard the hearty applause of the audience. Congratulations should be extended to those in charge of the program.

After the entertainment luncheon was served.

The evening was enjoyed watching Felix and other interesting and enjoyable movies.

Winter Feeding Expensive

The winter feeding of big game animals is an expensive project. The federal bureau of biographical survey found that it required 825 tons of hay to take care of the elk herds at the elk refuge in Wyoming from February 6 to March 29 and it costs over $25 a ton to get hay in the refuge. Without this winter food the animals would have a hard time through the winter.

During the meeting Comrade Lambrecht was made a member of the post, received the Legion obligation and charged with the responsibilities of active membership.

On February 16, third Monday, the post will hold an initiation ceremony to which all are invited. The regulation Legion ritual will be strictly adhered to. This is an interesting ceremony and should be witnessed with enjoyment to all.

Tonight our ladies are holding their first party for the public. Most of the Legionnaires will be present to assist the girls in making their bow to the village.

New Beauty Parlor Opens in Mt. Prospect

Edith Stanley Cleveland, a beauty expert of seven years experience has opened the Blue Bird Beauty Parlor one of the first floor store rooms in the Busse building, Mt. Prospect. An opening reception will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, when all ladies of Mt. Prospect and vicinity are invited to call and inspect the new quarters, which represent the very latest in beauty equipment and facilities.

The proprietor is not an entire stranger to this village as there are a number of Mt. Prospect women whom she has served in Chicago. These people have prevailed upon her to locate in Mt. Prospect. She has shown her confidence in the new location, by installing considerable equipment, not the least of which is an attractive waiting room, with radio, etc. An announcement appears in another column. Souvenirs will be given away the three opening days.

STATE WILL NEVER BE RULED BY COOK COUNTY GOVERNOR TELLS I. A. A.

Suggests Compromise on Reapportionment as in New York or Pennsylvania; Urges New Amendment

"One of the stumbling blocks in the way of tax reform is opposition from the people in Cook county because they feel that Chicago is denied its proper representation in the General Assembly," said Governor Emmerson before the Illinois Agricultural Association convention last Friday. "It was the principal objection made by Chicago interests to the proposed constitutional amendment. They argued that until the state was reapportioned they would oppose moving the constitutional limitations on the legislature in the matter of taxation."

"The constitution requires that the state must be reapportioned after each decennial census, but there has been no congressional reapportionment or legislative reapportionment in Illinois for thirty years. Nothing can be gained by arguing the right or wrong of this fact. Under the Constitution, the legislature is wrong in not having made the reapportionment as required by law, but it is the practical situation which controls in this instance as in most others."

"To reapportion the state under the terms of the present constitution would be to give Cook county a majority in both branches of the General Assembly. Right or wrong down state members of the legislature have not been convinced in thirty years and they are not likely to be convinced in thirty more years that complete control of the legislature should be given without check or hindrance to one county out of the 162 counties of the state. It is not done in any other state of the union and it is not likely to be done here, no matter whether we want it or not."

"As I pointed out in my biennial message, the United States government is based on the principle that territory as well as population has a right to representation. Therefore, there are two members of the senate from each state, regardless of the population of the state."

"All of the states which have cities whose population approaches or exceeds the population of the state have adopted similar measures so that no one community can control the state government. No county in New York may have more than one third of the membership of the state senate. No county or city in Pennsylvania is entitled to more than one sixth of the total number of senators." The governor cited numerous similar cases.

Suggests Solution
"The suggestion is made, therefore, that full representation be allowed Cook county on the basis of population in one House of the General Assembly and that the number in the other House be limited to approximately its present membership in that House. This could in no way injure Chicago for Cook county members would always be in control of one branch of the legislature and could thus check any legislation which was not considered best for the city or county. At the same time, Cook county members could not force on the state any measure which down state members felt was unjust or unwise for the communities outside of Cook county. It is a balance of power which seems reasonable and just."

"Chicago members cannot be expected to be conversant with conditions on the farms and with the smaller communities throughout Illinois. It is not reasonable to suppose that the welfare of the entire state would be advanced by permitting Cook county members of the legislature to decide every question which came before the general assembly, regardless of its interest or lack of interest to Cook county."

"It seems to me, therefore, that the way to settle the reapportionment question is by a constitutional amendment which will make possible this balance of power."

"I do not believe that the people of Chicago can reasonably expect the down state to turn over to them all of the functions of state government."

"As in the case of revenue reform, this serious question of proper representation must be considered fairly and justly. As long as Chicago and down state leaders continue to be arbitrary, no solution is possible and Chicago will continue to have only one third of the representation in the two houses of the general assembly. This is a mere statement of fact and not an expression of opinion."

The governor frankly criticized the I. A. A. and other groups for opposing the proposed tax amendment, which was a compromise, yet putting forth no definite plan of their own; meanwhile the tax situation grows more and more intolerable over the state, particularly in Cook county, real estate bearing a disproportionate burden."

Criticism Brought Fine
Under the alien and sedition laws passed during John Adams' administration, but without his approval, a Vermont editor was fined $1,000 for saying that the President had "unbounded thirst for ridiculous pomp and foolish adulation."

"Paying the Fiddler" Presbyterian Church Stage Comedy Drama

"Paying the Fiddler," a comedy-drama staged Wednesday night by the trustees of the Presbyterian church in the hall of the parish house, was a gratifying success. Morally, socially and entertainingly, it was a triumph. It was directed by our own histrionic favorite coach and director, Mrs. Lillian Draper Klehm. How efficient her work was accomplished was evidenced in the presentation of the play.

The Lions Club orchestra furnished the music. Good it was, too, why sometimes it was impossible to keep a pair of old feet from keeping time with the rhythmic swing of the bewitching strains. Yes the music was a background foreground and delightful in between movements.

The first scene was in the living room of the Castle house. The curtain rises with Mrs. Sarah Castle and her son, Henry (Arthur Weise) his mother our old time Dramatic star, Anna Morse Fehlmann, whose appearance was a delight to her friends; Mr. Castle hidden behind his paper, while his mother, in very plain terms, expressed her opinion of modern family life, her son's lack of backbone and the ruin to which they were all swiftly driving. Truth in her words she drove home that truth amazingly well.

In the midst of it all, Mr. Castle divulged the fact that his mother did not loan him a certain sum the heavy mortgage on their home would be foreclosed and he would be ruined. With an indignant denial of one dollar more than she had given, she started to leave the room. Staying her going, the daughter of the Castle's, Iris (Wilhelmina Porter) rushes in. All enthusiasm for "Dads" money, her party gown, and then came Junior (Lawrence Lips); all sorts of brother and sister squabbles, slang and chatter ensued. When their mother, Mrs. Helen Castle (Gertrude Adam) enters also ready for the party. Her heart is a troublesome member; on it her husband and children hang many excuses and so does she. When Henry tells his mother he dares not cross her lest her heart put an end to her life, his mother says it is not her heart; it is because she has no heart. Constant reference is made to Linda Craig, the orphan distant cousin (Gertrude Lorenzen), so well remembered for her part in a former play. She was the redeeming character in the family affairs. Her good sense, kind heart and poise were relied on by the whole family. Bob Eaton (Geo. Kost) the young man next door—author, poet and rather a susceptible suitor—came to form a trio with Linda and her uncle after the family had gone to the party, a pre-arranged and not unusual call, for Linda's charms affected his heart. Brown, an officer of the law (John Allen) moves in and out with kindly dignity. The family return from the party, Junior coming later than Helen and her daughter. The officer comes in and inquires for Junior, telling of an accident in which a child had been crushed and supposed to be fatally injured and he came to arrest Junior, who is accused of the accident. Linda proves an alibi for him declaring at the hour of the accident Junior was in her room studying his latin in which she is his teacher. Her calm statement convinces the officer who withdraws with apologies.

Finally the grandmother, who, with money power, holds the solution of the family problem and difficulties, comes to the rescue. Junior is arrested and taken away, after tragic scenes and hearts in more danger than Helens. One feature worth whole sermons and lectures, was heard and seen when Iris, in that agonizing family scene rushed to her grandmother, put her arms about her and cried "O Grandmother, it will all come out right, don't you know God is not cruel and he loves us and cares about our troubles and if we pray to him, He will forgive us and make it all come out right." Right there in teach a child in the way it should go, proved the test of the gold in the bank for harem scarem Iris, as we pray it will all of our children let go astray through parent's neglect and indifference. This was one of the strong features in the play. Another was the Grandmother's staunch resolute faith and wise old-fashioned common sense. Perhaps the most tragic scene was when Henry's heart gave way and he collapsed as in death. This was the turning point, the family came to themselves, even Helen forgot her heart in using a heart felt solicitude to bring Henry back to life.

Linda refused an offer of marriage from Bob Eaton, which Iris claimed she would have been so premeditated to have. Linda saved Junior and he was in love with her. Bob transferred his affections to Iris and O, my! O, my! the closing scene, a wedding.

Mr. Allen had prepared us for the grand finale by telling us to sit still and wait even if the curtain did not rise for a long time and we did. When lo, the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Castle enter and are seated then came the friends of the family, Miss Gray (Helen Schlosser), Mrs. Chalmers (Clara Weiss), Mrs. Bennett (Inez Ihle), Mrs. Bently (Marjorie Allen), Mrs. Smith (Nellie Rau), then enter Rev. Smith (Wm. John), then the groom and their attendants, bridegroom (Bob Eaton), second bridegroom, Henry Castle, Jr. (Lawrence Lips), attended by Alfred Green (Fred Hoffstetter), Chauncey Davis (Clifford Cramer), the ringbearer follows Buddy Grant (Merlin Dale Kost) the flower maidens were Ruth Bently (Peggy Roth), Dorothy Gray (Virginia Sahlberg) the bridesmaids Fannie Grant (Dorothy Fehlmann), Joan Chalmers (Louise Roth), Irene Sidley (Dorothy Wolf), Betty Green (Mildred Brockmeyer). All this bright group entered to the strains of the wedding march, Fern Lorenzen pianist. Then "Here Comes the Bride." This time two of them accompanied by their fairy grandmother the star of the play. Of course you know the brides, Linda and Iris, the fairy grandmother, Mrs. Castle, Senior. Such a scene, all the beauty the dazle, and the happiness of a real family wedding and just how the Rev. Smith tied those knots this deponent sayeth not.

The soloist in intervals throughout the play was Mr. C. W. Hanson, who sang three numbers: after the first act, with a generous response to insistent encores. In another interim he sang other numbers with the closing one that never to be forgotten "I Am the Captain Of My Soul," impressively and understandingly expressed. A strong robust voice with a master's control and a pleasing sense of reserved power, made Mr. Hanson's singing unusual and soul stirring. At the marriage he sang "O Promise Me," most effective and a delight to the audience.

The printer is waiting for this write-up, else it might fill the whole front page. The play was prodigious, thanks to the trustees and all who made it a grand success.

ELK GROVE SCHOOL District 59

There will be a dance and party attractions, Tuesday, Feb. 17, at 8 p. m. This will be given for the benefit of the school. Everyone is welcome.

The party and dance given by the achievement club two weeks ago was a great success. The achievement members are very proud to state that they have $90.00 in the treasury. They have bought a flag, curtains (which Mrs. C. Wille sewed for us), cork for above the black board and articles for the school. They wish to thank all parents and friends for their kind donations and assistance.

We have a hatched and cherry border on the blackboard and window. We are all busy making health posters. We divided the room into six teams. Each team has a captain who decides color schemes and dimensions of posters.

The pupils who haven't misspelled one word since our spelling contest are Wilma Wille and Wesley Landmeier. All the pupils are busily studying "Home and Country." We haven't decided on the winner. We have started to play baseball. Raymond has been elected manager. The basketball outfit is being neglected these nice days. The girls have a new game, called Japanese skill. They are also going to have a tennis court in the spring.

Mr. Downs, Miss Jackson and Mrs. Callahan were visitors to our school this week. Visitors are always welcome. Miss Jacobs had a chicken dinner at the Wille home last week. Don't forget to attend our party and dance Tuesday, February 17.

The boys and girls in the lower room sold home made candy at the party given by the achievement club. They made $4.40 with which they bought a curtain for their cupboard.

We have some poster pictures in our room. They are about the children's classes.

We are making decorations for our windows for February. They are going to be a lady in Crinoline holding a heart.

We have our Valentine box. We had to have a big one in order to hold all the Valentines we are going to send to each other.

Those who had perfect attendance for January are Francis School, June Wille and Mildred School. Emma Ehlers was the star pupil for January.

ARLINGTON HTS. PUBLIC SCHOOL

Arlington Heights grade school basketball boys won two games from Palatine last Friday night; the first team 35 to 15; second team 26 to 2. This week they play Dundee at Dundee.

Children of the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades are very busy with the operettas to be presented Friday and Saturday evenings, Feb. 20 and 21, at the Presbyterian parish hall, under the direction of Miss Fern Lorenzen.

Mrs. Henning, Miss Hawley and Mrs. Lorenzen, teachers in the North school, and Miss Schneberger in the South school, have been out more or less this week on account of sickness. Mrs. Elfeld, Mrs. Rolfe, and Mrs. Whitmore have been substituting at the North school, and Miss Russell, principal of the South school, has been taking Miss Schneberger's place during her absence. Many of the children, too, have been out of school recently.

Monday, Feb. 2 was the Fifth anniversary of the opening of the South school. The children met in the assembly room and were apprised of the fact. Fifty were present who attended at the opening five years ago.

The Girls' club of the 6th and 7th grades are planning a Valentine party for the Boys' club, Saturday evening Feb. 13, at the school. They had a fine sleigh ride party Friday, Jan. 23.

Lincoln's birthday programs Feb. 12, will be given in the North school, in the individual rooms, for lack of an auditorium. Valentine boxes will be had at the South school that afternoon, and the P. T. A. at night. Later on, a combined Lincoln and Washington program will probably be held. Both schools will close Feb. 23, in honor of Washington's birthday.

On account of mud around the South school yard, South street between Chestnut and Mitchell, has been barricaded off as a playground during school hours, lately.

Arlington Elevator & Coal Co.

ANNOUNCE THE ADDITION OF

FUEL OIL

As an adjunct to their present line of Coal, Coke and other Fuel, installation of necessary equipment is now going forward and deliveries will be possible prior to February 15th.

This firm will now be in a position to give complete fuel service—no matter what are your heating needs, they can be satisfied at one place.

It has been the policy of this firm to install additional equipment from time to time enabling us to give the greatest possible service to customers. The installation of modern coal silos a few years ago was followed by a fleet of swift delivery trucks. Today we are taking the initiative in Arlington Heights in fuel oil to our fuel line. It is our purpose to handle only standard grades, which will insure satisfaction for our customers at all times and under all conditions.

We will be pleased to anticipate the needs of fuel oil users.

Arlington Heights Contractors Erect Model School Building

THE TIOGA SCHOOL, BENSONVILLE, ILLINOIS

A handsome new model school building, the Tioga school of Bensenville, now occupied, has just been completed by an Arlington Heights firm: the Schaefer Construction company, 810 N. State road. The Board of Education of the district have expressed themselves as highly pleased with the work done.

The building shown in the above cut, is in an English domestic style of architecture, designed by E. Norman Brydges of Chicago; with two stories and part basement, approximately 61 feet wide and 139 feet long.

The building is located diagonally on the property and is arranged for future classroom extensions to the south and an auditorium section to the west.

The building contains six classrooms on the first floor and six on the second floor. At present the first floor and basement are finished. The second story is completed only roughly, which can readily be finished when required.

All foundation footings and walls are of concrete, and the exterior masonry walls are of pressed brick throughout with cut stone trim.

Interior floors are of concrete and steel joist construction throughout, with wood constructed roof and a felt and composition finish roof.

Interior stairs are of ornamental iron with steel subreads filled with concrete. Intermediate platforms of stairs are of reinforced concrete.

Interior sides of all classrooms, corridors, stairs, etc., are plastered directly on masonry walls, with metal lath and plaster for all ceilings. Plaster finish is of a buff self-decorating plaster with rough finish, giving a quiet, restful effect.

Each classroom is equipped with slate blackboards, cork carpet bulletin boards and lighted by means of cream colored glass shades to soften the artificial lighting of the rooms.

Corridors are equipped with steel lockers throughout, in place of the old dressing rooms and wardrobes.

All trim throughout the interior of the building is of oak, floors are maple, except one classroom, which has a linoleum finish.

Heating is a split system with radiators connected to a vapor vacuum temperature controlled piping system, with a central boiler heating unit, fired by an oil burner, with central fan and vent ventilating system.

When will Arlington Heights have such school buildings—on the north and northwest sides?

Tioga was the original pretty Indian name of our southern neighbor which now goes under the very commonplace moniker of Bensenville.

SPRING "HAS CAME" IN SOUTH ILLINOIS

No snow to amount to more than a heavy frost all winter so far, in Illinois south of Champaign, is reported by Forrest Davis of the Herald print shop, who spent the weekend in Effingham. Farmers are plowing and discing, and the children are begging to go barefoot. A farmer he talked with is undecided whether or not to sow oats now, saying that some already had their oats in. The ground is now in fine shape to work, they say.

Although the weather and appearances of things are pleasing, some of the wells are failing, and some anxiety is felt regarding the water situation.

Eggs are selling for 12 and 14 cents a dozen down there, where the farmers trade them in at the stores.

Heath Funeral Thursday in Des Plaines

The funeral of Edward B. Heath, famous flyer, stunter, inventor and manufacturer of airplanes and gliders, was held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the Lauterburg & Oehler home for funerals in Des Plaines. The service was conducted by the Masonic fraternity. Pall bearers were all aviators, and an escort of planes followed the funeral procession to Acacia Park cemetery.

Mr. Heath, who was very well known in Northern Cook county as well as in aviation circles all over the country, fell in a broken experimental plane Sunday onto the Fred Stoelting farm on Cumberland avenue, east of Des Plaines. The ship was completed only Saturday, and this was its first big flight; a two seater, low-winged monoplane, weighing 320 pounds and intended to sell at under $1,000.

The plane went into a tail spin from about 2,000 feet and Heath was able to right it about 500 feet down, but it then went into a nose dive, the wings giving way from the strain.

Mr. Heath has been making airplanes since 1909 and was head of the Heath Aircraft corporation. He won wide note for his skill and daring in the air. He lived at 633 Fullerton parkway, Chicago, and is survived by his widow and a daughter, Dickie Marie.

MRS. GEORGE WINKELMAN
Mrs. George Winkelman (nee Ida Dierking), was born July 10, 1899, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Dierking. Her mother passed away when the child was three days old. She was christened July 23, by the Rev. H. Wolf. She was confirmed April 5, 1914, in the Evangelical Friedens church at Bensenville. Her verse was: "But the Lord is faithful, who shall establish you, and keep you from evil." II Thess. 3:3.

Favorite passages of Scriptures of Mrs. Winkelman's were the following:

"And whither I go ye know and the way ye know." (John 14:4).

"The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my soul: He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever." (Ps. 23).

"Where He leads me I will follow."

Card of Thanks
We wish to express our most sincere and grateful thanks to all who extended expressions of kindness and sympathy as well as assistance to us upon our recent bereavement.

This Woman In 4 Weeks Lost 17 Pounds of Fat

Here's a letter written October 21, 1929, by Mrs. Fred Barringer of Lewistown, Montana, that ought to be read by every overweight woman in America.

Gentlemen: I started taking Kruschen every morning as directed as I was very much overweight and wanted to reduce.

I had tried going on a diet but would get so hungry that my diet would not last long, so I decided to give "Kruschen Salts" a fair trial. The day I started to take them I weighed 256 lbs. and at present, which has been just four weeks, I weigh 239 lbs. And I must say, I feel better in every way, besides looking much better.

May all large people, both men and women, who want to reduce in an easy way, give Kruschen Salts a fair trial. I am sure it will convince anyone.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts four weeks costs but 85c at Wendt's Drug Store, Arlington Heights, Ill., or any drugstore in America. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning. To help reduce swiftly cut out pastry and fatty meats and go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. The Kruschen way is the safe way to reduce. Try one bottle and if not joyfully satisfied—money back.

President Hoover's Position

In spite of the smoke screen of politicians' comment on the Wickersham report and President Hoover's message—some making him out to be a bone dry, and others about to join the wets—what are the facts as to the President's position?

He stressed three points in his message: (1) the commission's finding that enforcement is unsatisfactory in spite of recent improvement, and that citizens, states and local governments must do their part if enforcement is to have a real trial. He approves the commission's suggestions for better enforcement.

Again, he agrees with the commission that repeal of the 18th amendment will not be a solution to the national liquor problem, saying:

"I am in unity with the spirit of the report in seeking constructive steps to advance the national ideal of eradication of the social and economic and political evils of this traffic, to preserve the gains which have been made, and to eliminate the abuses which exist, at the same time facing with an open mind the difficulties which have arisen under this experiment."

Thirdly, he sees serious objections to the plan for revision of the 18th amendment whereby prohibition or regulation would be up to Congress; however, his mind is open to suggestions for "constructive steps" leading to a solution.

What are some of these objections? The President may have had in mind to the proposed revision of the amendment? Says the Washington Post, editorially (Jan. 22):

"What are the objections to the proposal to give Congress power to regulate or prohibit the liquor traffic? They are innumerable. The primary objection is, of course, that the United States under that plan would be in continual turmoil both during political campaigns and during sessions of Congress. A national system adopted in one year might be torn down in the next. Congress could restore the saloon; it could make wet States dry and dry States wet; it could legalize distilleries and breweries and then, in response to a gust of popular passion, it could sweep away millions of dollars' worth of property without compensation; it could create an army of Federal police to harass the States, and then abolish all Federal regulation of the liquor traffic. Political campaigns would be debauched, and members of Congress would be chosen solely upon the liquor issue. The purchaser as well as the seller of liquor would be a felon or inmate from punishment according to the annual whim of Congress. The Nation's business and the affairs of government would be subordinated to the never-ending battle over the liquor issue."

"Of all the proposed 'solutions' of the liquor problem, the commission plan to throw the issue into the arena of national politics is the most objectionable. It is little wonder that Mr. Hoover, who maintains an open mind in considering all proposed solutions, should prefer present conditions to those which would prevail if the prohibition question should be the football of politics in Congress.

"No solution of the prohibition problem has been presented by the Wickersham commission. Mr. Hoover does not pretend to offer a solution. He hopes a solution will be found. In the meantime he opposes foolish suggestions, and gives notice that he will enforce the law with all the means at his disposal.

"In this position the President is entitled to the support of the people of the United States."

Married Teachers Preferable; Says School Principal

Is a married woman less fit to handle youth because of her marriage? This old stale question seems to be bothering some school boards in Cook county.

"Every woman who is trained for teaching at the expense of the state, as is the case in practically every commonwealth, represents a direct expense of several thousands of dollars to the community of her preparation. If her marriage is to bar her from the classroom, this is a dead economic loss," writes James N. Emery, principal of Potter school of Pawtucket, R. I., in the last issue of the Journal of Education, edited by Dr. E. A. Winship, who is well known to members of Cook county school boards.

"Indeed, the married teacher, for the most part, brings to the work a broader outlook, a ripened experience of life, a greater understanding of pupils' problems, and more sympathetic attitude, and maturer judgment. In the main, she continues teaching because she is really interested in the work and likes that occupation," are the incontrovertible facts which Mr. Emery states.

Especially for Upper Grades. The upper grades, or junior high school age are "peculiarly in need of mature and well balanced teachers," writes a leading authority, William A. Smith, in his work on the Junior high school cited by Mr. Emery; "providing adequate salaries and admitting married women freely will do much to insure such teachers for junior high schools."

The abominable argument that married women teaching are keeping young women out of jobs, Mr. Smith disposes of sharply by saying, "Our schools are conducted primarily for the interest of the children whom the state and community are educating; and not to provide positions and salaries."

Any other viewpoint must result in a lowering of standards and decreased efficiency; only the best teacher should be considered, single or married; it is her individual results with the children we are after, and any other consideration is an abomination.

CHILD SUCCESS IS EDUCATION TOPIC

"Children Must Succeed" is the announced subject of the talk at 11 o'clock Saturday morning, Feb. 7, at a general meeting of the Central Council of Childhood Education, by Dr. Ernest Horn of the University of Iowa. The meeting will be at the Central Eleanor club room in the Stevens building, Chicago.

Cathedrals A cathedral is the church which contains the official seat or throne of a bishop. As a rule they are large, but a small building can serve as in the case of the tiny cathedral of the Byzantine Greek type at Athens.

Seedless Oranges The original seedless oranges were produced in Brazil by means of budding and the orange trees of this type in the United States all descended from two important Brazilian trees. Buds or budding sticks are taken from seedless or orange trees in spring or fall and inserted in two-year-old seedling or orange trees of ordinary type. When the buds send out shoots the seedlings are cut back so that only the budding portions develop.

FINDS FISH ARE THERE IN NEARBY LAKES

High Art in Tackle and Method Used by Local Men

The following article appeared in an official publication of the South Bend Bait company. It was written by Clyde Young of Arlington Heights and is so interesting to the sportsman that the Enterprise, by permission is passing it on to its many readers who, after reading it, may learn the secrets of how fish are caught in Lake Zurich and other nearby places.

While experimenting in so-called "fished out" bodies of water last summer we brought to light for the angler many interesting facts. The fished out opinion, I found in each case emanated more or less, from the "bent pin" variety of native. Of course any kind of bait will catch fish in a wilderness but not all of us have three weeks or more to spend in search of virgin water. Now to proceed with the whys and wherefores of neighborhood fishing.

The time: Noon.

The place: A lake 10 miles from a very large city.

Reputation: Bad. Supposed to contain a few bass but very few taken in last 10 years. Mostly very small blue gills or more to spend in search of virgin water. Now to proceed with the whys and wherefores of neighborhood fishing.

Bait used: Trix-Oreno, bass size. Equipment: Cross bass bug fly rod; 14-pound test Black Oreno line; six-foot extra-fine gut leader. (Absolutely no sinker.)

Method: Trolling.

Depth of water: Between 3 and 9 feet.

Kind of water to fish: Around weed beds, lily pads and parallel with bars.

Here's the extraordinary part. Can you imagine anyone trolling with a fly rod? Troll we did and very slowly. The Trix-Oreno works best at a slow gait. The lone out leader is absolutely invisible. Letting out 75 feet of line we started with the boat moving slowly.

Result: 14 blue gills, up to a pound in weight; 8 black bass up to 5½ pounds; 1 pickerel, 10 pounds; 7 crappies upwards of half a pound and about 100 astounded eye witnesses.

"Well, would a think it," was the remark of the individual who had but a short time before advised us of the lake's "fished out" condition. We were elated and began to look for tough fishing places. The tougher the better.

Our next "try" was in the heart of Chicago's park system. Can you imagine a place any closer to civilization. We selected a small lagoon which ran back into the park for half a mile.

Bait: Callame bass bugs. Line: Double tapered. Leader: Extra-fine gut, 6 feet long.

Rod: Cross bass bug fly rod. I haven't the space here to explain the fine art of bass bug and feathered minnow fishing. Here is a method that produces miracles, especially between the hours of 4 and 10 a. m. and in the evening from about 4 p. m. until dark. Even after dark they will, smuck the feathered beauties with great gusto. The gentleman who had the honor of guiding Ex-President Coolidge on the Brule has caught some of his largest trout on the Feath-Oreno.

It certainly is a surprising thing to note the few fishermen who use the very latest and best methods for catching their fish. Casting a bass bug is so simple that a child 10 years old can master the art in just a few days' time.

Well—we must get back to our lagoon. First we got out the Trix-Oreno outfit. There wasn't a sign of a lily pad or a weed bed. The water was riley and anything but clear. So we trolled about 50 feet out from shore and soon brought forth a nice 4 pound bass.

My good friend Paul, a bass bug and dry fly enthusiast, pulls forth his bass bug equipment. Selecting a Feath-Oreno with a red body and green feathers, he made ready for his cast. He shot the bug well away from the boat and near the spot where the Trix-Oreno had done its work. Where there is one bass there is generally more. The bug settled ever so lightly and lay perfectly still for perhaps 15 seconds.

Then he "twitched" it slightly and let it lay again. Along about the fourth "twitch" the water immediately under the bug split wide open. The bass cleared the water in a beautiful leap and Paul "set" the hook.

Two fish in about 10 minutes. Picnickers by the score lined the banks and shouted encouragement. It just hadn't been done there before.

Our next experiment was conducted with plugs. I selected my good friend Roy Harris, known in the middlewest as a very clever manipulator of the wooden minnows. The day was somewhat windy which created quite a ripple on the water. This situation is ideal for plugs and not so good for bug casting. Roy has a very neat way of winning in slowly after the cast. He intersperses his winding with short snappy jerks and then letting the plug float to the top. He lets the plug lie for a few seconds, then gives it a jerk and lets it lie again. That jerky movement seems to galvanize Mr. Bass into action.

The Teas-Oreno is his favorite surface bait. "Most fishermen," says Roy, "retrieve their bait too quickly. Fifty per cent of my strikes are obtained when the bait is lying perfectly still after one of those little jerks."

"Neighborhood fishing" brings out the real art of angling. The close-in places are fished hard and the finny tribe are wise in the way of their kind. They are in there tight, make no mistake about that!

A Canine's Candid Comment I like the meals at our house Cause afterwards I'm able, To get the folks to give me The scraps from off the table. The meals they serve at our house Are absolutely grand. When o'er I hear the dinner bell I bark to beat the band. I know we might have steak, or beef, Or chicken, ham or fishes, And when the "humans" get enough I get what's on their dishes. Sunday dinners sure are swell And supper is all right. When there's stuff sizzling on the stove My tail wags with delight. But there's one meal I so dislike I think I'll name it last, And that's the morning grub they serve. They call it their "breakfast," Cause no matter how a dog'll work Or how cute he tries and begs You know as well as I do that You can't get bones from eggs. And eggs and toast are all they serve At this outlandish meal. I wish the "humans" I'd realize Just how it makes dogs feel. Just to protect us dogs, And keep the human beings, From being such big hogs. I think I'll talk to Rover—

—He's Hoover's dog, you know And set if something can't be done To remedy our woe. And make the "humans" serve some food On mornings, well as evenings, That gives their dogs a little chance.

To have some decent "leavings" Cause, no matter how a dog'll work Or how cute he tries and begs, You know as well as I do that, You can't get bones from eggs!

It seems indeed a most appropriate coincidence that the holder of the transcontinental air record is Mr. Frank M. Hawks.

"Fire Sweeps Pop Factory—Chi. Trib. How perfectly silly! We'd recommend a good vacuum-cleaner."

"We now take you to the Blank Restaurant, where you overlook the lake and Grant Park," voiced the radio announcer just now. You wouldn't really believe it, would you, if you hadn't heard it over the radio, that anybody could overlook anything as big as Grant Park, to say nothing of the lake.

I asked Palatine Pete why he didn't take his parents out to ride in his new car, and he said, "Because I love the 'Old Folks at Home so much.' Sure, he is dumb. Don't laugh at him, it makes him worse."

It was nice to have a warm month, for the sake of folks who couldn't buy coal. But seems like this warm weather, everything goes flu-cy, at that.

We see by the papers that Alexander De Nooryan, an Armenian, 109 years old and claiming to have 78 wives, has just recently died in peace. The fact that Al had weathered through 109 summers really isn't what caught our eye. It was the fact that any guy married 78 times could die in peace.

Speaking of wives, it says here that Lieut. Arnold, an aviator, who has been mixed up in divorce proceedings for some time, has just learned that legally he still has two wives. Well, that'd keep any man up in the air.

Coast guard officials were startled to discover that two of the scows belonging to the City of New York, and employed as sewage dumpers, were being used to transport liquor. Frankly is just don't surprise us in the least—no not in the least. Judging from the aroma of the "stuff" the gentlemen standing next to us had on an Evanston Express the other night, the scows got their cargos mixed.

According to latest despatches from Honolulu, Miss Aimee Semple McPherson has done gone and bought herself a hula-hula skirt. This, however, is no indication that Aimee is going to grass.

We missed out on the last fire they had in town, and it's a darn shame too! We just think something ought to be done to people who have fires just at the time Amos and Andy are doing their stuff.

Dr. Kegel, commissioner of Public Health in the City of Chicago, says that the worst part of the Flu epidemic is over.

Baybe bad, I didn't know about that.

Beauty Never Silent

The beauty of nature, the poetry of life, will speak to us in whatever materialistic surroundings, even as the bush breaks forth in blossom in whatever dingy backyard and neglected springle in whatever flowered grassplot.—Washington Post.

Pearl Composition

Pearls of culture generally possess a finer structure than those of accidental growth, or the natural; but it is almost impossible to distinguish between the two kinds except by cutting the pearl and examining the cross-section.

Double Feature Week at Des Plaines Theatre

Take advantage of the splendid programs which are being shown at the Des Plaines Theatre.

Lois Moran Heads All Feature Cast in Drama

The romantic leads in "The Dancers," Fox Movietone drama of youth directed by Chandler Sprague which opens at the Des Plaines Theatre Friday.

The story contrasts the lives of two girls, both dancers who love the same man. It is an intimate picture of modern life, morals and love in which the bravery and spirit of both girls are tried to the limit. Walter Byron and Mae Clarke head the distinguished supporting cast, which also includes Mrs. Patrick Campbell and Tyrrell Davis.

Buck Jones, who plays the stellar role in "Desert Vengeance," Columbia's all-talking Western which also shows Friday and Saturday this week, has a new recipe for keeping domestic peace. It's this—be let his wife beat him at bridge.

At least that's what he says. But Mrs. Jones tells another story. She says that he doesn't "let" her do it. She agrees, however, that her husband is the most daring horseman alive and says his feat in "Desert Vengeance" made her shudder.

She thinks that the strong supporting cast in this picture which includes Barbara Bedford, Buck Conner, Ed Brady and others is one of the best that her husband ever had.

Director William James Craft is proud of his motion picture "rogue's gallery" appearing in the feature-length Universal comedy "See America Thirst," as it is composed of the finest group of gangster types ever assembled in Hollywood. The picture is a satire on life in American gangland. Over three hundred extras, representative of all types of thugs, hijackers and rum-runners, were employed. Harry Langdon, Slim Summerville, and Bessie Love have the featured roles in "See America Thirst" which will be one of the attractions at Des Plaines Theatre Sunday. The other feature is "Inside the Lines" with Betty Compson and Ralph Forbes heading the cast.

Delightful Comic Duo in Movietone Musical Hit The inimitable comedy team of El Brendel and Marjorie White, which has virtually run away with every picture in which they have been paired, are prominently featured in the second big De-Sylva-Brown and Henderson Fox Movietone musical comedy, "Just Imagine," acclaimed everywhere worthy successor to their "Sunny Side Up."

Scenes of "The Lash" Shot at Calabasas, California

Richard Barthelmess and "The Lash" company worked on location near Calabasas, California, for several days shooting exterior scenes of the First National-Vitaphone romance of early California which comes to the Des Plaines Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 11 and 12.

The other feature shown in connection with "The Lash" is "Fast and Loose," Fast with fun! Loose with laughs! A frolicsome of vivid vicarious, youthful actors you'll love! In an up-to-the-minute romance that moves to a smashing climax! "Fast and Loose"—Meet Miriam Hopkins, the fresh and frisky lit of Broadway's trendiest laugh-getter, "Lysistrata," Glorious Carole Lombard, Handsome dark-eyed Charles Starrett, and Henry Wadsworth, whom you loved as the sailor in "Applause."

—A girl who "Doesn't mean it" meets a man who can't laugh at love! Then what happens?
